

ANTHROPOLOGY & COVID-19 webinar series

WEBINAR 1/2 A Multispecies Perspective on Covid-19

Eben Kirksey (Deakin University)

Covid-19 is been analyzed by anthropologists worldwide who are tackling issues such as the impact of the pandemic on the healthcare system, on most vulnerable populations and on political and social life. While this are all very important aspects to be analyzed, this webinar propose to look at the pandemic and its effects not from a human-centred perspective but from the virus one, embracing a multispecies approach in dialogue with a critical reading of some of the scientific literature on SARS-CoV-2. Our guide in this will be Eben Kirksey, associate professor at Deakin University, currently at the Institute for Advanced Studies, Princeton and leading scholar in multispecies ethnography and the study of science and justice.
